VOLUME 1, 1946

BLOOD
The Journal of Hematology

CONTENTS

No. 1

Foreword ........................................... George R. Minot 1
Blood: A Brief Survey of Its Chemical Components and of Their Natural Functions and Clinical Uses................. Edwin J. Cohn 3
Primary Congenital and Secondary Acquired Splenic Panhematopenia Charles A. Doan and Claude-Starr Wright 10
The Megakaryocytes in Idiopathic Thrombocytopenic Purpura, a Form of Hypersplenism........... William Dameshek and Captain Edward B. Miller 27
The Value of Penicillin in the Treatment of Agranulocytosis Caused by Thioracil ... Mary Catherine Tyson, Peter Vogel, and Nathan Rosenthal 33
The Diagnosis of Hodgkin’s Disease by Aspiration Biopsy Lucile Loseke and Lloyd F. Craver 76
Editorial .............................................. 83
Abstracts ............................................ 85
News and Views ..................................... 93
Book Reviews ....................................... 97

No. 2

Some Newer Concepts of the Natural Derivatives of Hemoglobin Cecil James Watson 99
The Cardiovascular System in Anemia: With a Note on the Particular Abnormalities of Sickle Cell Anemia........... Maxwell M. Wintrobe 121
Observations on the Effect of Massive Doses of Iron Given Intravenously to Patients with Hypochromic Anemia
Anne Tompkins Gottsch, Carl V. Moore, and Virginia Minnich 129
Erythroblastosis Fetalis in the First-born ... Philip Levine and R. K. Waller 143
CONTENTS

Relation of Contacting Surface and Anticephalin Activity to the Maintenance of the Fluidity and Coagulability of Blood. Leandro M. Tocantins 156

Editorial .................................................. 173

Abstracts .................................................. 175

News and Views ........................................... 181

Book Reviews .............................................. 184

No. 3

Anti-Anemic Properties of Thymine. Tom D. Spies, Walter B. Frommeyer, Jr., Carl F. Vilter, and Ann English 185

Acute Hemolytic Anemia and Hemoglobinuria Following Sulfadiazine Medication. Joseph F. Ross and Bertha L. Paegel 189

Primary Polycythemia: Remissions Induced by Therapy with Radiophosphorus. Lowell A. Erf 202

Prognosis in the Neurologic Manifestations of Pernicious Anemia. R. Wayne Rundles 209

Standardization of the Quick Prothrombin Test. Paul M. Aggeler, Joan Howard, S. P. Lucia, William Clark, and Alexis Astaff 220

Individual Blood Differences in Relation to Pregnancy, with Special Reference to the Pathogenesis of Preeclamptic Toxemia. Jane G. Hurst, Howard C. Taylor, Jr., and Alexander S. Wiener 234

Hematologic Effects of Splenectomy in Still-Chauffard-Felty Syndrome. John S. Hirschboeck 247

Editorial .................................................. 256

Abstracts .................................................. 257

News and Views ........................................... 266

Book Reviews .............................................. 269

No. 4

The Present Status of Folic Acid. L. Joe Berry and Tom D. Spies 271

Treatment of Liver Extract Sensitivity. Steven O. Schwartz and Helen Legere 277

Infectious Mononucleosis Complicated by Spontaneous Rupture of the Spleen and Central Nervous System Involvement. Stuart L. Vaughan, J. Sutton Regan, and Kornel Terplan 334

Experimental Leukocytosis. The Ineffectiveness of P-chloroxylenol and Methyl Acetamide as Bone Marrow Stimulants. Leo M. Meyer 343
CONTENTS

The Excretion of Urobilinogen in the Stools and Urine during Malarial Infection

A. de Vries 348

Editorials ................................................................. 357

Abstracts ................................................................. 358

No. 5

Further Observations on the Effect of Benzene on a Strain of Myeloid Chloroleukemia in Mice and on Changes Produced in the Leukemic Cells by the Chemical

C. M. Flory, I. D. Steinhardt, and J. Furth 367

Cellular Changes Produced by Extracts of Human Organs

L. A. Erf, D. L. Turner, and F. R. Miller 379

Monocytic Leukemia and Tuberculosis

Elwyn L. Hiller and Charles H. Hiles 387

Plasma Cell Leukemia

William T. Moss and Lauren V. Ackerman 396

Morphological Examination of the Blood and Sternal Marrow of Nine Patients Treated with Thiouracil

Carl J. Gessler 407

Sternal Marrow Studies in Thyrotoxicosis Treated with Thiouracil and Review of Literature Regarding Thiouracil Effects on Blood

Stella H. Sikkema, Ethel W. Thewlis, and Ovid O. Meyer 411

The Effect of Thiouracil on Leukemia

Louis R. Limardi, Richard J. Kulasavage, and Conrad L. Pirani 426

Editorial ................................................................. 426

Abstracts ................................................................. 428

News and Views .......................................................... 433

William Waddell Duke: Notes on the Man and His Work 435

Book Reviews ............................................................ 438

No. 6

Preservation of Normal Human Plasma in the Liquid State

Eugene L. Loner, Sonia Lemish, A. Sue Campbell, and Lloyd R. Newhouser 458

Platelet Counts and Platelet Function

Paul M. Aggeler, Joan Howard, and S. P. Lucia, with Edith Mills 472

Pseudohemophilia: Case Study ................................................ Woodbury Perkins 497

Pseudohemophilia

S. Estren, L. Sanchez Medal, and William Dameshek 504

On the Influence of Stilbamidine upon Myeloma Cells

I. Snapper and B. Schneid 528

Hematological Changes Following the Administration of Large Doses of Quinacrine Hydrochloride

Charles W. Mushett and Henry Siegel 537

Specificity of Isoagglutinin Response Following Injection of Group Substances into Group O Individuals

William C. Boyd and Francis C. Lowell 548

The Blood Groups, Subgroups, and Rh Factor of the Mapuche Indians of the Province of Cautin, Chile

L. Sandoval, C. Henckel, and L. Givovich 554

Editorial ................................................................. 555

Abstracts ................................................................. 560

News and Views .......................................................... 564