CONTENTS

The Schoenlein-Henoch Syndrome of Vascular Purpura

- Eli Davis 129

Hyperprothrombinemia Induced by Vitamin K in Human Subjects with Normal Liver Function

- Paul N. Unger and Shepard Shapiro 137

A Modification of the Waugh-Ruddick Test for Increased Coagulability of the Blood, and its Application to the Study of Postoperative Cases

- Seymour B. Silverman 147

In Vitro Study of Bone Marrow. III. Erythropoiesis In Vitro of Sternal Marrow from Cases of Pernicious Anemia and Lymphatic Leukosis under Therapy

- Johannes Clemmesen, Tage Espersen, and Claus Munk Plum 155

Studies on Bone Marrow In Vitro. III. The Effect of Anoxia and Hyperoxia on Explanted Bone Marrow

- A. Rosin and M. Rachmilewitz 165

Electron Microscope Studies of Blood Cells

- John W. Rebuck and Helen L. Woods 175

Case Report: Aplastic Anemia; Secondary to Gold Therapy

- William J. FitzPatrick and Steven O. Schwartz 192

Method: Spinous Process Puncture. A Simple Clinical Approach for Obtaining Bone Marrow

- J. Philip Loge 198

Adolfo Ferrata (1880–1946)

- M. Volterra 205

Editorial: Marrow Biopsy Technics

- 209

Abstracts

- 211

News and Views

- 223

Book Review

- 229